Opportunities to Support the Arts

The UC Santa Cruz Arts Division presents high-quality work by faculty, students, and guest artists, provides remarkable education opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students, and welcomes the public to numerous performances, exhibitions, and talks.

There are many opportunities to support the arts and arts education and research. Philanthropy at all levels makes a tremendous difference for the Santa Cruz community and UC Santa Cruz students to experience the arts.

Undergraduate Scholarships and Awards
In addition to a general Arts Division student scholarship fund, there are existing scholarships in each department. These scholarships can help students secure materials for classes, pay for music instrument instruction, recognize outstanding student work, and more.

Graduate Fellowships
Graduate support is needed for these programs: Digital Arts and New Media, Film and Digital Media, History of Art and Visual Culture, Music, and Theater Arts. Fellowships can help support students working on dissertations, cover equipment rental costs, support internships, and more.

Departmental Support
Donations to department funds enable departmental leadership to respond quickly to opportunities and direct funds to areas of greatest need within the program.

Arts Dean's Fund for Excellence
This fund supports faculty research and creative projects, dissemination of undergraduate and graduate research, divisional priorities, and students needing emergency support to stay in school.

Special Arts Division Programs

Institute of the Arts and Sciences: This new program harnesses the combined power of arts and sciences to explore critical issues, develop insights, and share those insights with the public. Donations to the programming fund bring events and exhibitions to the campus, the community, and beyond.

Mary Porter Sesnon Art Gallery: The gallery, located at Porter College and open to the public, has a rotating schedule of exhibitions representing a broad range of methods, media and cultures, with a focus on contemporary practice. Donations support exhibitions, gallery interns, and more.

Shakespeare to Go: This outreach program brings a 50-minute version of a Shakespeare play to K-12 schools in Monterey, Santa Cruz, and San Clara Counties, as well as to public venues. The production is edited and directed by Theater Arts faculty, and students are the cast and crew. Donations help cover the costs of presenting in low-income schools.

UC Santa Cruz Opera Program: Presenting two operas annually, this program is one of the few in the U.S. that gives undergraduate voice and orchestra students opera experience. The Opera program produces two performances of a free family opera, and five performances of a fully staged opera. Donations provide general operating support as well as scholarships for voice students.

For more information on these and other opportunities in the Arts Division, contact Ann Gibb, Arts Division Development Director, at 831-459-5507 or anngibb@ucsc.edu. Thank you!
